THE TRUTH COMING OUT.-When the Georgia bill was under discussion in the House of Representatives on the 5th of March, Mr. Farnsworth (Republican) made some remarks in which much of plain and unpalatable truth was pressed home upon his party. On General Butler he was especially severe. We have often, during the progress of reconstruction, had occasion to refer to the false accusations trumped up by party leaders to fire the Northern heart in order that, under cover of the excitement created, the congressional managers might be enabled to carry through their proscriptive measures. Mr. Farnsworth employs now (rather too late in the day, however,) the same arguments that we employed at an earlier period. He said:

"The gentleman from Massachusetts | Butler] had yesterday raised the cry of murder in the House. Whenever he wanted to pass these reconstruction bills he got up in the House and cried "Murder!" and by a hue and cry of that sort got his bill passed. Whenever one of these bills was to be passed, a Washington paper published accounts of some great outrages, and immediately the Reconstruction Committee was called together and a bill reported to the House. He remembered that last year a gentleman, a very elever fellow, but a man whose politics were always of those of the reigning dynasty, who had sold arms to the people of Georgia in the winter of 1860 and 1861, with which to shoet down Union soldiers, went to Georgia, and with the assistance of Governor Bullock, manipulated the Legislature and got a committee appointed to examine his claim for the payment of those arms. The committee was manipulated so as to make a favorable report, but the legislature refused to adopt it or pay the claim thereon. That man came on to Washington full of sorrow, his heart wrung to its depths, with tears in his cycs over the terrible persecutions of the negroes and of the loyal men of Georgia. That PARLOR ORGANS from the best makers. heart wrung to its depths, with tears in his man was in favor of the reconstruction of Georgia at once. What was the touchstone? It was that he could get his $25,000 and in terest for the arms he had sold to the State of ANECDOTES .- The drill instructor in an old English regiment-one of the old stamp of martinet sergeants-who was the terror of every recruit, and the remorseless tyrant of the awkward squad, was putting a firing party through the funeral exercise. Having opened the ranks, so as to admit the passage of the supposed cortege between them, the instructor ordered the men to "rest on their arms reversed." Then, by way of practical explanation, he walked slowly down the lane, formed by the two ranks, saying as he moved: "Now, I am the corpse! Pay attention.' Having reached the end of the party, he turned around, regard ed them steadily with a scrutinizing eye, for a moment or two, and then remarked in a most solemn tone of voice: "Your ands is right, and your 'cads is right; but you 'aven't got that look of regret that you ought to 'ave.'

Georgia.'

Cincinnati is wildly execised over spiritual manifestations. At a very successful seance the other night, a man burst into tears when the medium described very accurately a tall, blue eyed spirit standing by him, with light side whiskers, and his hair parted in the middle .- "Do you know him ?" inquired a man at his side, in a sympathetic whisper. "Know him, I guess I do," replied the unhappy man, wiping his eyes. "He was engaged to my wife. It he hadn't died, he would have been her hus and instead of me. Oh, George, George," he murmured, in a voice choked with emotion, why, why did you peg out?"

THE FLOWER FORGET ME NOT .- Mills, in his work on chivalry, mentions that the beautiful little flower called "torget-me not," was known in England as early as the time of Edward IV.; and, in a note, he gives the following pretty incident in explanation of the "Two lovers were loitering on the margin of a lake, on a fine summer's evening, when the lady discovered some flowers of the Mysostis growing on the water, close to the bank of an island, at some distance from the shore. She expressed a desire to possess them, when her knight, in the true spirit of chivalry, plnnged into the water, and, swimming to the spot, erepped the wished for plant-but his strength was unable to fulfill the object of his achiev ment; and feeling that he could not regain the shore, although very near it, he threw the flowers upon the bank, and, casting a last affec tionate look upon his lady love, he said, forget me not, and was buried in the water.

DIVORCE WANTED. - The petition of Catherine Howard, of Montgomery county, for a divorce from two husbands, was presented Thurs day in the House of Delegates. It sets forth that the petitioner was married in 1860. at the age of sixteen years, to a man named Shelten; that she lived with him a short time, was shamefully treated and finally deserted by him. She waited five years, and thinking the statute of limitations applied in eases of the kind, married again. She was as unfortunate in her second venture as in the first, and after being maltreated and abused, was again de serted by her husband, who is her first cousin. She prays for a divorce from both of them. and if she gets it will, it is presumed, be very careful about entering a third time into the matrimonial state. She is represented as a good young woman, and his the sympathy of all who know her. TO PROTECT MARRIED MEN. - A bill has been introduced in the New York State As- | .] sembly defining the rights of married men and equalizing the rights of nan and wife. The CORN, OATS, HAY, STRAW & MILLFEED, bill provides that a husbaid having children by his wife shall have an estate for life in property left by her. He shall not be liable for debts contracted by his vite before marriage, nor for debts contracted by her without his consent, except for the support of herself and lower at

ORGANIC WEAKNESS Immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the victims of impropriety.—Young persons are too apt to commit ex casses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind Immediately cured and full vigor restored. destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise.
